UNITED STATES FACES STRONG POSSIBILITY WAR WITH GERMANS

ENGLISH PRESS SIDING WITH U. S.; CONDEMN GERMAN REPLY TO NOTE

LONDON, FEB. 19.—RETALIATORY MEASURES AGAINST GERMANY ARE STILL UNDER CONSIDERATION BY THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT. A STATEMENT WILL BE ISSUED UNTIL ALL PHASES OF THE MEASURES HAVE BEEN EXAMINED BY KING GEORGE AND THE PRIVY COUNCIL.

THE ENGLISH PRESS IS UNANIMOUS IN CONDEMNING GERMANY'S REPLY TO THE UNITED STATES, AND IT IS ASSERTED THAT THE INCIDENT WILL FURTHER STRENGTHEN THE FRIENDSHIP EXISTING BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND GREAT BRITAIN.

TWO GREAT ZEPPELINS BELONGING TO THE FLEET SENT TO PATROL THE NORTH SEA HAVE BEEN WRECKED OFF THE COAST OF DENMARK.

THE DUTCH STEAMER HELENA WAS HELD UP BY A ZEPPELIN IN THE NORTH SEA, BUT WAS LATER ALLOWED TO PROCEED.

300,000 MORE RUSSIAN SOLDIERS SENT TO AID IN RESISTING GERMANS

PETROGRAD, FEB. 19.—THE GERMANS CONTINUE THEIR TERRIFIC ASSAULTS UPON THE 300-MILE RUSSIAN FRONT BETWEEN NIEMEN AND THE VISTULA RIVER, BUT IT IS OFFICIALLY CLAIMED THAT THE RUSSIANS ARE SUCCESSFULLY WITHSTANDING THE ATTACKS.

IN THE CARPATHIANS, IT IS INDICATED THAT THE AUSTRO-GERMAN ATTACKS ARE WEAKENING, AND THE RUSSIANS ARE TAKING THE OFFENSIVE.

THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND FRESH RUSSIAN TROOPS HAVE BEEN SENT TO RE-ENFORCE THE CZAR'S FORCES IN THE REGIONS OF AUGUSTOWA AND PLOCK, WHERE THE RUSSIANS WILL SOON AGAIN TAKE THE OFFENSIVE.

THE REPORT OF HEAVY RUSSIAN LOSSES IS DENIED.

BIG RE-ENFORCEMENTS FOR FRENCH.

PARIS, Feb. 19.—The French scored successes in the Vosges and in the Argennes today. Joffre announces that the French army will be strongly reinforced immediately. The French have resumed the offensive against Metz, and are meeting desperate resistance. There is fighting of great intensity around Rheims and in the Argennes.

SENATE TAKES UP APPROPRIATION BILL.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—With the ship-purchase bill anchored in conference until February 27th, the senate today began consideration of big appropriation bills.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Walter, who had been with their son, Dr. F. J. Walter, for some time at their home on 11th Street, went down to Cocoa Beach, Fla., for the remainder of the winter. Mr. Walter owns a residence and other property at Cocoa.

OLD FASHIONED ELK INITIATION AT NEXT MEET LOCAL LODGE

ANNUAL INSPECTION BY DISTRICT DEPUTY GRAND EXALTED RULER — INITIATION CEREMONY.

The next regular meeting of Daytona lodge, No. 1141, B. P. O. Elks, promises to be the most interesting session that has been held for some time.

District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler W. H. Northrup, of Pensacola, will make his annual inspection of the lodge that evening, which in itself should insure a large attendance.

There will also be two candidates, and it is said that unusual preparation has been made for their reception and they will be given an old fashioned initiation into the order. Special apparatus has been secured for the occasion, it is said, for the purpose of impressing upon the candidates their reception into Elksdom and incidentally furnish entertainment for the members present.

The social session will also be a special one with an abundance of imported Elks' milk and chicken pilau provided by one of the members who is just now feeling in a particularly generous mood.

Taken altogether it is going to be a meeting that few Elks will willingly forego the pleasure of attending.

O. Stokes, of St. Paul, Minn., who had been in Daytona for several days, departed Thursday for Hot Springs, Ark., enroute home. As previously noted in this paper, Mr. Stokes is a boyhood friend of F. A. Root of this city and they greatly enjoyed getting together after a separation of 30 years.

MRS. MENZIES DIED THURS. AFTERNOON

SURVIVED HER SON, CAPT. JACK MENZIES, LESS THAN TWO MONTHS—FUNERAL AND BURIAL AT DETROIT.

After an illness of long duration, Mrs. Margaret Menzies, aged 86 years, died at her winter home, 221 South Ridgewood avenue, late Thursday afternoon. She had been in much poorer health since the death of her son, Capt. Jack Menzies, shortly after Christmas. The mother and son had been coming to Daytona annually each winter for many years. Their summer home was at Amherstburg, Ontario, Canada.

The body has been prepared for burial at Bingham & Maley's undertaking parlors, and will be sent to Detroit, leaving Saturday afternoon, accompanied by the deceased lady's nurse and a niece, Mrs. S. Lett, who had been with her aunt for about six weeks. The funeral and interment will take place at Woodmere cemetery, Detroit, immediately after arrival of the party.

Mrs. Menzies was the widow of Peter Menzies, who died over half a century ago. She was born at Inverness, Scotland, in 1829. She had led a very active life, and solely through her own efforts succeeded in accumulating a fortune of considerable size. Among the surviving relatives who are known in Daytona are a niece, Mrs. S. Lett, of Guelph, Canada, and a nephew, H. D. Menzies, of Detroit, Mich. The latter came here at the time of the death of Capt. Jack Menzies.

J. Edson Claus, of Chicago, Ill., is spending a few weeks with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Mettler, at their home, 119 Arlington avenue, Bungalow Park.

REPLY TO AMERICAN PROTEST REITERATES THREAT TO SINK SHIPS

WASHINGTON, FEB. 19.—THE MOST IMPORTANT CABINET MEETING IN MONTHS WAS HELD IN PRESIDENT'S LIBRARY TODAY, WHEN THE CLEAN-CUT ISSUE BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND GERMANY WAS DISCUSSED.

THE FEELING IN WASHINGTON TODAY IS THAT THE UNITED STATES IS FACE TO FACE WITH THE POSSIBILITY OF BEING DRAWN INTO THE EUROPEAN CONFLICT IF AN AMERICAN SHIP IS SUNK, BUT MOST ADMINISTRATION OFFICIALS REFUSE TO BELIEVE THAT GERMANY WILL PERMIT ANY OF THIS COUNTRY'S VESSELS TO BE TORPEDOED.

THE OFFICIALS ARE UNABLE TO FIND THE SLIGHTEST CONCESSION IN GERMANY'S REPLY TO THE UNITED STATES' PROTEST. INSTEAD, THE REPLY MAKES THE WARNING TO NEUTRAL SHIPS TO KEEP OUT OF BRITISH WATERS STRONGER.

CONSULAR REPORTS TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT INDICATE A SHORTAGE OF FOOD STUFFS, BOTH IN GERMANY AND IN AUSTRIA. THIS IS ESPECIALLY TRUE OF THE LATTER.

BIG EXPO. COMPLETE; WILL OPEN TOMORROW

SAN FRANCISCO, FEB. 19.—THE PACIFIC-PANAMA INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION, COSTING $20,000,000, IS COMPLETE, AND TOMORROW WILL BE THROWN OPEN TO THE WORLD ON TIME, EXACTLY AT EIGHT O'CLOCK IN THE MORNING.

TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND PEOPLE WILL JOIN IN A TRIUMPHAL MARCH THROUGH THE GATES AT THE OPENING AS PRESIDENT WILSON, IN WASHINGTON, PRESSES A BUTTON STARTING THE MACHINERY AND OPENING THE DOORS.

SEA FIGHT IN PACIFIC REPORTED IMMINENT

SAN DIEGO, CAL., FEB. 19.—IT IS REPORTED THAT A NAVAL BATTLE BETWEEN TWO JAPANESE WARSHIPS AND THREE GERMAN CRUISERS, OFF THE COAST OF LOWER CALIFORNIA, IS IMMINENT. IT IS ALSO RUMORED THAT A JAPANESE GUNBOAT, IN ATTEMPTING TO INTERCEPT A VESSEL CARRYING SUPPLIES TO THE GERMAN SHIPS, WAS WRECKED IN A FOG.

GERMANS CLAIM SUCCESS EAST AND WEST.

BERLIN, Feb. 19 (Official).—The Germans have captured the town of Tauragge, northeast of Tilsit, and have scored other successes at the east. They also stormed and captured Hill No. 600 in the Vosges. The French offensive has been checked in the Champagne district, and the Germans recaptured a section of trenches along the Arras and Lille road, lost to the French Tuesday.

MISS BOARD OF TRADE TONIGHT AND BE SORRY

One more time at least: The regular weekly meeting of the Daytona board of trade will be called to order by the president this evening at 8:00 o'clock. Same old gathering place.

If a member of the board of trade, be there, by all means. If not a member, put up a ten-spot and join right now—and be at tonight's meeting sure. Otherwise you might miss something. It is expected that there will be "doings" in addition to the transaction of "real" business.

"ABNORMALITY IN MODERN LIFE"

Written Especially for the Daily News

By DR. CHARLES FREDERIC GOSS

Author "Redemption of David Corson"

Beyond a certain line, in the progress of civilization, the "abnormal" is bound to reveal itself in myriads of startling forms. We see it in the crazy "isms" of philosophy and religion; in the silly "fads" of social life; in the wild denials of the sacredness of law in government; in the hideous vices that spring out of and prey upon the social system.

Consider the case of Freric Mors, the self-confessed slayer of eight old people in the German Odd Fellows home in New York state.

When asked the reason for this horrid crime, he answered, "I killed them because they were in pains that could not be relieved. Also, they were not pleasant physically, to themselves or anybody else. It was really kind-hearted to put them to sleep with chloroform."

Most terrible of all the terrible things in this confession is the fact that these abnormal feelings are simply the perversion of some of the most beautiful and glorious qualities of human nature. It was out of pity (one of the divinest elements of the immortal soul) that they sprung, in the case of this butcher. This over-sensitive creature could not bear to witness the sufferings of his fellow men. There may be crimes which have their origin in the purely evil realms of life, if any such there be. In the case of Mors, unquestionably, the evil was only perversion of the good. But it was hideous, all the same.

In this inevitable appearance of the "abnormal" (as life increases in intensity and complexity) lies a peril that must not be minimized. That peril is the possibility of a community, a nation and, even, the human race becoming unable to discover its passage over the line of the normal into the abnormal.

It is the horrible characteristic of insanity that the sufferer loses his power of self-analysis. He never knows that his mental equilibrium is being upset, because the unreal assumes the aspect of reality.

This, also, is a peril of the life of a nation. So many people are, together, seized with some mental or moral malady, that the distinctions of reason and unreason; of right and wrong; of the beautiful and the base are obliterated, without public recognition. Before we know it, such multitudes of people are cherishing these abnormal notions that they seem natural and right, because so universal.

There are more of these unbalanced Mors in the country than it is pleasant to believe, and if their existence has any social value whatever, it is to make us watch ourselves, like lynxes, to discover symptoms of such maniacs in ourselves. Over-sensitiveness to the sight of suffering may become as contemptible and dangerous as under-sensitiveness. A Mors may be as great a menace to society as a Nero or a Torquemada. The abnormal is as full of peril as the sub-normal or the supra-normal.

$13,000,000 HEIRESS TO WED

Miss Catherine Barker, the $13,000,000 heiress, who, although she has not yet made her debut in society, has announced her engagement to Howard H. Spaulding of Chicago. Miss Barker inherited her fortune from her father, the late John H. Barker, the car manufacturer of Michigan City, Ind. Miss Barker intends to make an extended tour of Europe before her marriage.

BATTLE IS WON BY AUTOS

Re-enforcements by Motor Turned Scale for Germans at Soissons.

Berlin.—The automobile played an important role in deciding the battle of Soissons. It is now learned that re-enforcements, brought up by a column of more than two hundred automobiles on the night of January 12 and thrown in on the German left flank at Vregny, turned the scale when the Germans were making their counter-stroke and enabled them to sweep the French from the plateau.

Hitherto automobiles have been used by the Germans but little in this campaign, except for the transportation of riflemen attached to cavalry divisions, owing to the length of time required for loading in motor cars large bodies of troops, which to a great extent, neutralizes the extra speed in the actual movements. On this occasion the troops were drawn up four abreast in a column along the road. As each automobile arrived men clambered in quickly and without confusion.

WANT IT SPELLED "SERBIA"

Nation Opposes "Servia" Because of Latin Derivation Meaning "To Serve."

London, England.—The Serbian legation in London has addressed a letter to the press and public urging the adoption of the spelling of "Serbian" and "Serbia," instead of "Servian" and "Servia."

"The latter spelling," says the legation spokesman, "is highly offensive to our people, mainly because it suggests a false derivation from the Latin root, meaning 'to serve.' It is a source of hidden pain to Serbians to see that some journals persist in using the corrupt forms."

The same letter requests wider publication and performance of the Serbian national hymn. "In restaurants and public places we hear the British patriotic songs and hymns, with those of your allies—France, Russia, Belgium and Japan—yet, alas! not that of Serbia, which is really a beautiful piece of music."

WAR CUTS TREASURE SALES

American and European Collectors Are Now Remarkably Scarce in China.

Peking.—Notwithstanding a recent presidential mandate forbidding the export of rare pieces of sculpture gathered by vandals, the traffic continues.

Further than issuing the mandate, which was done largely in response to the appeal of various American societies and a note from Secretary of State Bryan, no effort is being made to preserve and protect these monumental treasures which remain in China.

But the war is having some effect. Collectors of treasures who used to come to Peking in great numbers from the various European states and America and from Japan, now are remarkably scarce.

LIKE HELEN KELLER

Five-Year-Old Boy Displays Remarkable Powers.

Deaf Mute and Almost Blind, He Is in Fair Way to Become Famous—Result of Care and Proper Treatment.

St. Louis.—Ernest Smith, five years old, deaf, dumb and almost blind, was taken from the city hospital three years ago, after his mother deserted him, by the Missouri Branch International Sunshine society, and is in a fair way of becoming as remarkable as Helen Keller, according to medical authorities, specialists and instructors in the Missouri School for the Blind.

The child, who three years ago was not expected to live and who was declared to be mentally defective, is an excellent proof of what care, the proper treatment and skilled attention will accomplish. At five he displays a healthy devotion to the sports indulged in by boys of his age the world over and an alarming interest in the carrying out of mischievous pursuits.

Since an operation performed several months ago, which restored to him in a slight measure the use of his left eye, he has displayed a sense of touch and perception which have set his elders wondering, and which has determined them to secure for him the best advantages obtainable to make of himself other than an ordinary mute.

He recognizes colors readily; is able to distinguish his Sunday clothes from those of the every-day variety; he is quick to notice anything new in the wearing apparel or speech of the visitor in the home in which he is being cared for, and he makes known his likes and dislikes in an emphatic manner, in everything running the gamut from foodstuffs to persons.

In the opinion of Mrs. F. W. Baumheff, for 14 years president of the Missouri Sunshine society, and who resigned that post in order to devote her time wholly to caring for blind children under school age, the child's powers of observation are nothing short of remarkable.

BISHOP OF LONDON

Arthur Foley W. Ingram, bishop of London, who has gone to the front as chaplain of the London rifle brigade.

IS CHECK ON DEATH IN WAR

Progress in Surgery and Sanitation Reduces the Fatalities in Modern Warfare.

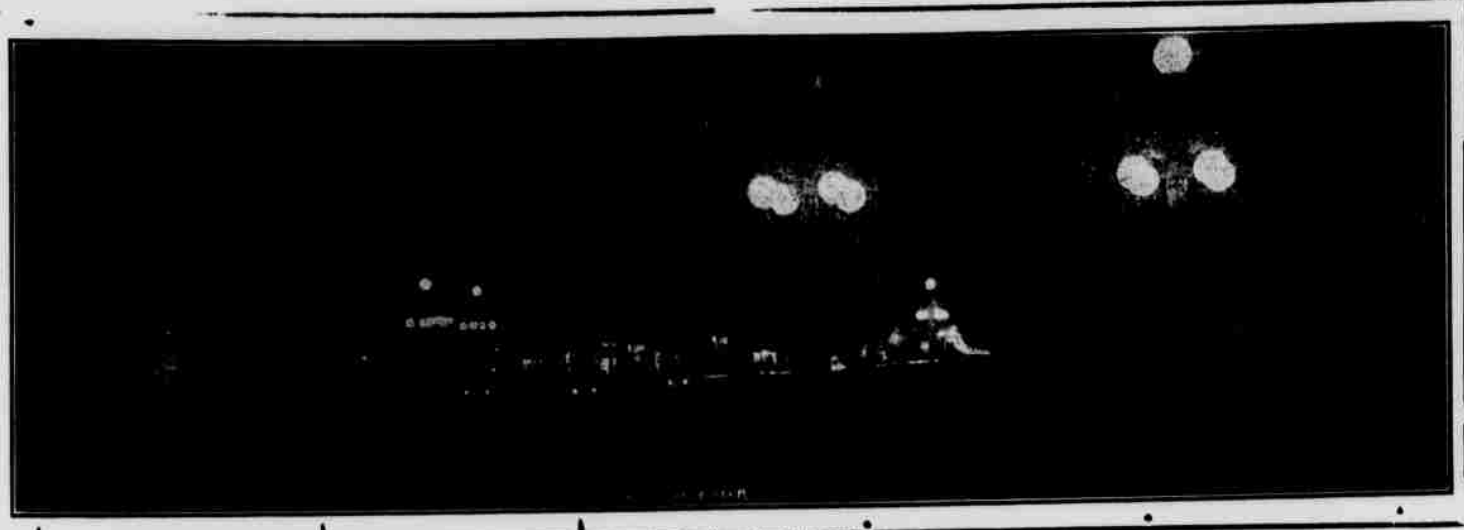

Amsterdam.—Contrary to the popular impression that modern wars result in a greater number of deaths than those of the past, the opposite is true, according to an article reproduced in the Tjld. It is pointed out that this is largely due to the progress in surgery, the use of efficacious antiseptics, the great development of modern army sanitation and the high efficiency of the medical troops.

Beginning with the Seven Years' war, the number of deaths in battle and from wounds received have decreased in the following percentages: Seven Years' War, 42; Napoleonic wars, 35; Crimean war, 15; Italian war, 10; Franco-Prussian war, 14; Chinese war, 10; Anglo-Boer war, 9; Manchurian war, 25; Turco-Bulgarian campaign, 12; Turco-Serbian campaign, 10; Turco-Greek campaign, 8.

The tendency of modern wars to show a constantly diminishing number of deaths is indicated by some of the most important battles of these and other campaigns, as the following list of percentages of the losses through death during or after the action shows: Borodino, 20; Austerlitz, 25; Waterloo, 17; Solferino, 12; Mukden, 20; Liao-chang, 10; Lala-Burgas, 12; Chatala, 10; Monastir, 5.

The absence of all reliable data on the losses so far sustained in the European war makes even an estimate impossible.

This Man Never Wears a Coat.
Atchison, Kan.—With the exception of the time he attended the funeral of a brother in Missouri, five years ago, Joseph Wiscaron, a coal teamster, seventy-seven years old, of this city, never wore a coat in his life. When he took off the coat at that time he caught a cold. He never owned such a thing as an overcoat. Despite his age he does hard work every day.

Pont-a-Mousson Doctor and Wife Have Shell Surprise in Morning.

SOLDIERS GO ON A STRIKE

Stick in Trenches and Refused to Charge Until Artillery Cleared the Way—Valor of Troops of Southern France Questioned.

By A. R. DECKER.
(Correspondent of the Chicago News.)
Pont-a-Mousson, France.—The doctor and his wife inhabit a three-story house on the side of the Place du Roi farthest from the Germans. Because of the open square in front, there is nothing to intervene between them and the German shells, to make them explode before reaching the residence of the doctor. So, to escape the bombardments, the doctor and his wife eat, sleep and live in the kitchen, which is on the corner of the house farthest back and farthest down.

Listeners to "Music" of the Shells.
One evening, as was his custom, the doctor, having finished dinner, was consulting the memoranda of his calls for the day and for the day's work to come. He heard the usual whistling and exploding of shells and left his notes long enough to throw open the window, the better to hear the "music." It was cold, blowing and raining.

"Tiens!" said the doctor; "what a night for the boys in the trenches."
"Yes," his wife replied. "How sorry I feel for them."

S-s-s-s-s-s-s. Bang!
"That one went to Marin's, I think."
"Lucky we are safe here."
S-s-s-s-s-s-s. Boom!

"Not far from here, that one."
"Another one, and not far from here, either! Are the Prussians going to bombard us forever? Why don't they fire on the batteries? They only waste their ammunition!"

The bombardment eventually stopped, and the couple went to bed, to dream of screaming shells and sugar at double price. In the morning the doctor started on his round of calls, and his wife climbed the stairs, to open the windows and let in the chance sunshine, which comes only occasionally and stays only a short time in this wet country. Imagine her surprise to find that a shell had exploded in the house and had made matchwood of the furniture and woodwork of the top story. A Kansas whirlwind is the only rival of a shell turned loose in a house. The doctor's house was a mixture of plaster, rugs, beams, stones, planks and tiles.

The marvel is that the wind and rain had prevented the doctor and his wife from knowing when their home was hit.

War No Longer a Circus.

When the war first came to Pont-a-Mousson it was like the arrival of a circus. The sleepy little town was for once awakened from its lethargy and furnished with a big excitement. The soldiers filled the street, crowding the shops and flirting with the girls, who were smitten with the brass buttons.

Gradually this has all changed. Food began to rise in price. Many articles became totally lacking. There was no work, winter came on, and military discipline drew the lines closer and closer until now one is virtually a prisoner. And the Germans are still here, bombarding us nearly every day and constantly threatening a new invasion.

Slowly the somber cloud of death and misery has been drawn down until there is scarcely a family which has not lost a father, a brother, or a son. As I walk through the market I see a bent old mother confiding her misery to an equally miserable young widow.

The saddest are the young widows, with one or two little children. Each day I see two or three more young women in mourning. The whole town seems sad, inexpressibly sad. A battalion of chasseurs was made up almost entirely of men from Pont-a-Mousson. Two-thirds of this battalion have been lost.

Southern Soldiers Criticized.

The French soldier from the south of France is said usually to be less courageous than his brother from the north and east. This has been shown many times, I am told, in the battles of August, September, October and November.

At Morhange, in the early days of the war, the French advanced against a superior force of Germans, unsupported by artillery. There was a complete German victory, and every French officer was made prisoner or killed. The remnant of the French army fled in disorder for 50 kilometers. It is asserted that the rout was caused by the failure of the southern soldiers to stand up to the fight.

In the early part of September the Germans swarmed out of Metz and hurled three army corps against the French force that had been ordered to protect the "crown" of Nancy. The French troops were composed of two army corps, the Twentieth and another. The Twentieth corps is composed of soldiers recruited from the north and east, and other corps of men from the south, from the "Midland."

A series of unfortunate events brought the Germans up to the Bois de Champenoux, in front of the plateau of Armanche. There is a rumor that the commandant of a fort was derelict in his duty and failed to destroy several bridges which were in range of his guns. These bridges permitted the Germans to move quickly and bring with them their heavy artillery.

Throw Down Guns and Run.

At the first charge, it is said, the soldiers from the "Midland" threw down their guns, tore off their haversacks and ran, crying: "Save yourselves!" The battle line stretched from Ste. Genevieve beyond the Bois de Champenoux, with the Twentieth corps at the end near Ste. Genevieve, and joining the other corps, which faced the German left wing.

The panic of the French right wing left a wide road clear for the Germans directly to the doors of Nancy. But the Twentieth stretched its line to front the three German corps and heroically awaited the charge. The Germans advanced after a heavy rain of projectiles, and, with crowded ranks, music ahead, charged the thin French line. So valiantly and determinedly did the Twentieth hold that the Germans were repulsed with enormous losses.

There was an actual strike in the trenches here recently. All plans had been laid for a French attack at two o'clock. However, the territorials refused to march. This sounds like a strong statement, but I have it from the soldiers themselves, and from other sources.

The Germans are so well entrenched that the territorials feel it would be suicide to charge with the bayonet. So they went on strike until the artillery shall have destroyed the trenches. They say charging trenches is not their work; something like asking the cook to make beds when there is also a chambermaid.

Agree to Shoot Wildly.

A section of the extreme right of the French army of the Meuse, guarding a part of the Haupt de Rieup, was on extremely good terms with the opposing German force. Both Germans and French were territorial troops, composed of family men. They visited each other often, exchanging wine and cigars, and showing each other portraits of their wives and children. Finally, they agreed that it was foolish to kill each other and leave their families in misery. So they made a compact to shoot over each other's heads when their officers insisted that they fire.

This condition went on for nearly two months and a half. Meanwhile, unknown to the French territorials, the French engineering corps had been digging a mine with which to blow up the German trenches with melinite. At last the French soldiers persuaded the Germans to end the situation by deserting in a body. So one day the Germans left their trenches, and, holding a white flag in advance, came toward the French lines, expecting to be welcomed by the French territorials. But in a house back of the French trenches the French officers saw the movement, and pressed the button which exploded the melinite in front of the German trenches. There was a flash, a deafening report. The Germans flew into the air! Few escaped death or serious injury.

The French territorials were enraged because of the action of their officers, and wept because of this seeming treachery to their German opponents. I am perfectly satisfied that this is a true account, but it must also be kept in mind that it is a common belief among French officers that the Germans frequently show the white flag as a ruse, in order to get closer to the French lines.

"NUN" SHAVES; GERMAN SPY

Taken Into English Home, "She" Is Liked by Girls—Pays Death Penalty.

San Francisco.—The fate of a German spy disguised as a Belgian nun in England was told succinctly in a letter received in San Francisco by Miss Alice Robinson from her cousin, Miss Ada Grant of Boston, Lincolnshire county, England.

The letter said in part: "Did I tell you that we had taken in a Belgian nun as a companion, though we were taken in as well? One night we heard a noise in 'her' room, and, going up quietly, we peeked through the transom, and what we saw I shall never forget. There was the 'sister' in a German uniform, shaving."

"My sister phoned for the police, and after a struggle the man was arrested. A little later a shot was heard that announced the last of him. Our feeling are better imagined than described, for we had really got to like the 'sister.'"

PUZZLED OVER NAVY

War Lessons Leave Uncertainty as to What to Do.

American Students of Naval Affairs Will Have Much to Learn From European War—May Change Whole System.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.
(Staff Correspondent Western Newspaper Union.)

Washington.—Congress was at sea for some time to know what it should do for the navy. It is still at sea as to whether or not what it is doing and has done are the right things to do.

Here is the trouble: The navy department made its recommendations for battleships and smaller craft prior to the time that any naval lessons had been learned as the result of sea fights between nations now at war. The naval committee of the house of representatives amplified the building program of the navy department, adding thereto several ships of war of various kinds. Now it is admitted that the sea lessons of the present war may tend to prove that the kind of ships which are to be authorized will not meet the requirements of the lessons learned from the fighting now going on.

In the navy department today every detail of recurring sea engagements is being studied closely. The battle between the British ships Lion, Tiger, New Zealand and others, and the German ships Bluecher, Moltke, Derflinger and the others seems to have shown, so American naval officers say, the superiority of fast ships of the battle cruiser class with a certain number of big guns, over smaller ships with a much larger number of guns of slightly smaller caliber.

The information concerning the battles between English and German vessels in the South Pacific, South Atlantic and in the North sea is not as full as it might be, but the service men are able to read between the lines and they get a lot of material out of meager reports in which laymen might not be able to find anything, even if they applied a microscope. The result of this study of fighting as it occurs will show later when the estimates are made for another naval appropriation bill.

Some senators and representatives seem to think that it would have been far wiser this year not to have appropriated any money to build American men of war, except for a few of the smaller type whose worth for certain duties is well known. There seems to be a belief that the great fighting ship of the future will be not a dreadnaught, but the fast battle cruiser with heavy long range guns.

The war is still going on and as in all human probability there will be more sea fights before it is over there will be plenty of lessons yet to be learned by the American students of naval affairs. Navy men say it is possible when the European war ends that there will be a complete change of ship building procedure on the part of all the nations of the world.

65-CENT ROOSTER COSTS $16

But Owner Has Satisfaction of Having It Back in His Pen After a Legal Battle.

Denver.—Sixteen dollars was the amount a rooster, worth 65 cents, cost Charles Utt, a resident of West Denver, not counting the loss of time spent in an endeavor to regain the bird.

The rooster managed to escape from the pen in the rear of Utt's home. It was wandering in the alley when Ralph Nissen, a small boy living in the same block, caught it. The boy took it home and refused to give it up when Utt learned of its whereabouts.

Realizing that the boy would not give the bird up voluntarily, Utt had recourse to the law to regain his rooster. He hired an attorney to bring replevin proceedings in Justice Rice's court at an expense of five dollars, and then hired an auto to convey Deputy Constable Robert Shores to and from the Nissen home. He was out $16 when Shores turned the rooster over to him.

BABE HAS FIVE "GRANNIES"

Friends of the Family Predict It Certainly Will Be a "Spoiled Child."

Connersville, Ind.—Maynard, year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Jarvis of Harrisburg has five living grandmothers. His great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Nancy Hackleman, is ninety-three years old, and eats fried cabbage and apples that are not entirely ripe if she wishes to.

The two great-grandmothers are Mrs. Martha Ludlow of Longwood and Mrs. James S. Jarvis of Hubers. The grandmothers are Mrs. William B. Jarvis and Mrs. Homer T. Hackleman of Harrisburg.

The child won first prize at the baby show at the free fair at which event all the ancestors named were present and it was predicted that the young one would certainly be spoiled.

BAD WEATHER CAUSED BASE BALL POSTPONEMENT

Owing to bad weather the base ball game scheduled to take place on Wednesday between the clerks of Hotel Ormond and the Clarendon, had to be postponed until Saturday, February 20, at 3:15 p. m. Persons desiring to go up and see this game will find automobiles in waiting on the beach in front of the hotel at 2:45 o'clock. These weekly contests furnish a lot of enjoyment for lovers of the national game, and every exhibition given thus far this season has been witnessed by a large crowd. Saturday's game is sure to prove no less interesting than the others, and should bring out even more people than any previous game, since the season is further advanced.

UNEXPECTED GUEST GIVES MOST PLEASANT SURPRISE

J. J. Armstrong, of Rome, New York, arrived at the Clarendon yesterday and pleasantly surprised his mother and sister, who are season guests at the big hotel. They had no reason to expect Mr. Armstrong at this time, and for him to drop in on them unawares, although a little late, was a valentine remembrance much appreciated by both.

ADMISSION TO CLARENDON BALL AND CONCERT $1.00

In announcing the price of admission to the Clarendon ball and concert on March 5th, the Daily News was in error when it stated that the tickets would be 50 cents. The price of admission will be $1.00.

A BIG DAY ON THE GOLF COURSE

FAIR WEATHER BROUGHT OUT UNUSUALLY LARGE NUMBER OF PLAYERS—NO LOW SCORES RECORDED, HOWEVER.

Yesterday's clear weather was most acceptable to a large number of golf enthusiasts stopping at the big hotel who sallied forth shortly after breakfast with the expectation of being the first ones on the links. They arrived there only to find that scores of others had figured on doing the same thing. Automobiles containing golf players had come from every direction so that by mid-day the plaza in front of the club house was packed with machines as close as they could stand. In spite of the fact that there were fully 75 players on the links at the same time, Instructor Christie handled his patrons with little or no trouble, and as a result one of the busiest days seen this season passed off in fine style.

A strong north wind blew a gale all day and interfered considerably with the players which probably accounts for no low scores having been made. In addition to the regular players, many of whom hold weekly and monthly tickets, there were several on the links who were making their first appearance this season.

Among these were L. P. Moon, of the Spokle Country club, Glenview, Ill.; W. P. Perrine, of the Glenview Golf club, Golf, Ill.; Thomas Henderson, Elyria, Ohio; J. J. Armstrong, Rome, N. Y., and L. R. Smith, Milwaukee.

Optimistic Thought.

One's duty is to accept the challenge of the passing day.

SURF AND HIGH TIDE AMUSED GUESTS OF HOTEL

Clarendon guests, many of whom are making their first visit to Seabreeze, and the ocean beach, viewed with wonder yesterday's surf and unusually high tide. It was indeed a beautiful sight as seen from the veranda of the hotel.

Clarendon young folks saw to it that not a minute of yesterday's sunshine went to waste, and as a result, the tennis courts and clock golf course were kept busy from early morning until sundown.

ARRIVALS OF A DAY AT HOTEL CLARENDON

Wednesday's arrivals at Hotel Clarendon included Louis Engelhart, Cincinnati, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Hiller and valet, Baltimore, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Frazer and maid, Syracuse, N. Y.; L. M. Shepard, Chicago; Mrs. Chas. E. Clark, Mrs. Emma C. Mock, Derby, Conn.

OFFICIAL OF WINTON MOTOR CO. GUEST AT CLARENDON

Thomas Henderson in company with Mrs. Henderson, of Oberlin, Ohio, are sojourning at Hotel Clarendon for some time. Mr. Henderson is vice-president of the Winton Motor company and one of the many big business men of that progressive state.

Mrs. Bumpweather Explains.

"I have observed," says Mrs. Bumpweather, "that when I am extra kind to people they think I am easygoing and take advantage of me. But I can well afford to laugh, because it is perfectly true."

Nellie Bly's Experiences in Hungary

(Miss Nellie Bly, the International News Service special correspondent in Austria-Hungary, continues her interesting account of her travels in the war zone.)

It was a lovely homecoming. I had hardly stepped with my well foot out of the cab before I was surrounded with welcoming attendants, all speaking English, as the American flag floated above the Astoria's splendid entrance indicated they should. I jumped into the marble lobby. Through the plate glass doors on my right I saw Dr. MacDonald and Adolf von Leidenfrost breakfasting. I knocked on the glass. In a second they were holding on to each arm and asking me endless questions, which I made no pretence to answer. Someone behind caught me round the shoulders. "Welcome! Welcome! We have you again. We shall not let you go!"

It was Mihaly Geller, the owner of the Astoria. Needless to add, Mr. Geller is an American. Beautiful, blond Mrs. Geller joined us, and over our delicious coffee, eggs, zucchini, and that wonderful liquid honey of which I can never eat my fill, we rejoiced over my return and exchanged news and views.

Mrs. Geller took me to my room and saw that everything was done for my comfort, while I steamed in the hottest water in my marble bath. What extraordinary contrasts in a few hours! From the greatest privations—no heat, water or food and the softest, daintiest bed, in the most luxurious rooms.

Steam Heat.
Mr. Geller's flowers were on the desk, Mrs. Geller's fruit on the table by my bed, papers, magazines and delicious steam heat. I snuggled beneath the downy covers and watched lazily through the hand-made lace curtains the fluttering snow. For the moment I felt there were better things than being a war correspondent.

At nine o'clock in the evening an officer called at the hotel to notify me to be at the station in time to leave on the 8 a. m. train. My friends tried to persuade me I was too ill to go, but a war correspondent must obey just like a soldier. To my application for leave of absence I had no reply, so, sick or well, I must go. At 6:30 I was up. At 7:15 I left the hotel. At twenty minutes to 8 I was in the station. I was the first. I looked everywhere, but saw none of our party. The last minute brought all in a bunch. We were finding places on the train when a journalist arrived bearing a message from our commander.

I would not go back to the Astoria and to bed. I drove out to the American Red Cross hospital, where there was to be an inspection by the military authorities and the raising of the American flag to float before the great wide doors.

I won't report the long list of titled men who were among the visitors. But that wonderful surgeon and great man, Dr. Dollinger, stopped at each bed to get a brief report from the attending physician of the case. To each patient he spoke with a smile and patted his cheek or smoothed his brow or hand.

A Great Surgeon.
Dr. Dollinger is not only one of the greatest surgeons of the world, but one of the gentlest, kindest men. I was glad I watched him unseen through the glass panel in the door. He gave an exclamation of surprise when he came out and found me in the hall.

"I thought you were in Serbia!" he said, shaking hands.
"I am just back," I answered. "I sent you my photograph. Will you send me yours?" he asked.

"I shall be pleased," I answered.

"I greeted everybody and promised to follow. I had seen something more interesting. A bent, work-worn man in sheepskin coat and cap; a little bent woman in wide skirt and black shawl over her head were coming hesitatingly up the wide stairs. He carried a handkerchief with what seemed to be food. She carried a round bundle of knitted things and red worn clothes. She came to me, bent her knee and kissed my hand. The man did likewise.

"What do they want?" I asked Von Leidenfrost, who lingered near.

He spoke to them in one of the ten languages of the country.

"They have come to see their only son," he explained. "They started from their home at 3 a. m. day before

LADIES ARE INTERESTED IN APPROACHING MASQUERADE

At the card party held by the Ladies' auxiliary of the German-American club, Thursday afternoon, there was much discussion of the coming masquerade ball to be given by the auxiliary Thursday evening of next week in the Arcade hall, the ladies, of course, being much interested in the costumes to be worn on that occasion. This masquerade will be quite a social event and the members of the German-American club and the ladies' auxiliary and their friends, who will have the exclusive use of the Arcade hall for the evening.

Name in Trunk.

It is a good plan when traveling to have one's name and address printed or written on the inside cover of a trunk. Then in case of loss of check, or any mistake, it can be identified by the owner to the satisfaction of the railway officials by simply opening the trunk.—Good Housekeeping.

LADIES ENJOY CARDS IN GERMAN-AMERICAN CLUB ROOMS

The regular third Thursday of the month card party of the ladies' auxiliary of the German-American club held yesterday afternoon in the club rooms in the Arcade building, was a very pleasant social affair. The game as usual was 500, and five tables were engaged. The first prize was won by Mrs. L. Wilkens, of Harwichport,
Mass., residing for the season at 75
Second avenue, and the second prize was won by Mrs. Henry Schmidt, of Schmidt's hotel. Mrs. George Mossman, of Brooklyn, N. Y., received the guest prize. Refreshments were served and a pleasant social time enjoyed at the conclusion of the cards.

PROMINENT EVANGELIST TO ARRIVE TOMORROW

Dr. George L. Snively, an evangelist of national fame, who will dedicate the new Christian church building on Sunday, February 28th, is expected to arrive tomorrow from Pattonsburg, Mo., where he has just concluded a meeting. Dr. Snively will hold a meeting in the old Christian church building during the week, with Pastor S.
L. Jackson, commencing next Sunday.

Application of Paint.

Paint should be applied only to a clean and dry surface. Moisture under a paint causes it to blister when exposed to the sun; also moisture between coats has the same effect.

Simple Poison Warning.

A good way to mark bottles containing poison is to push two pins into the side of the cork at right angles to each other.

AUSTRO-GERMANS TAKE CAPITAL OF BUKOWINA

VIENNA, FEB. 19 (Official).—CZERNOWITZ, CAPITAL OF BUKO-WINA, HAS BEEN TAKEN FROM THE RUSSIANS. THE ENEMY'S FORCES HAVE RETREATED ACROSS THE PRUTH RIVER. BY THEIR OFFENSIVE OPERATIONS DURING THE LAST THREE WEEKS THE AUSTRIANS AND GERMANS HAVE FORCED THE RUSSIANS BACK EASTWARD 75 MILES.

BIG ZEPPELINS FLYING WESTWARD.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 19.—A huge Zeppelin was sighted from the Danish frontier last night flying westward. Other Zeppelins have been seen today over Schleswig-Holstein flying in the direction of the North Sea.

HARD FIGHTING FAVORS GERMANS.

LONDON, Feb. 19 (Official).—A German trench southeast of Ypres was blown up today, and a number of Germans were captured. Reports of severe fighting near Neuve Chappelle indicate that the Germans made gains.

SHIP TORPEDOED WITHOUT WARNING.

HAVRE, Feb. 19.—The French steamer Dinorah was torpedoed this morning without warning by a German submarine off Dieppe. The Dinorah was towed to Dieppe by fishing boats.

NORWEGIAN STEAMER BLOWN UP.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—The Norwegian tank steamer Beldridge, bound from New Orleans for Amsterdam, was sunk by a mine off Dover today. The crew was rescued.

NO TRAVEL FROM ENGLAND TO CONTINENT.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Ambassador Page wired the state department from London today that Great Britain has suspended all travel between England and the continent until further notice.

ILLINOIS DAY AT NAUTILUS CASINO NEXT TUESDAY

A meeting of Illinois people was held at the Nautilus casino Thursday, the meeting being called to order at 2:30 p. m. by C. W. Lansing, who introduced Benford Deacon, secretary of the Daytona board of trade. Mr.
Deacon explained the object of the meeting and stated that Mr. Sholtz had donated the use of the building, and they were welcome at any time to hold meetings there. A temporary organization was effected with Thomas Henson, of Champaign, as chairman, and John F. Stewart, of Evanston, secretary. As the meeting was not very largely attended it was decided to call for Tuesday, February 23rd, at 1:00 p. m. at the Nautilus, at which time it is proposed to form a permanent organization and hold a basket picnic.

APPROACH TO SILVER BEACH AVENUE HAS BEEN DAMAGED

The approach to Silver Beach avenue from the ocean beach has been washed out by the high tides and heavy winds of the past few days, and automobiles crossing by the South bridge cannot reach the beach by this route until repairs have been made, which will be done as soon as the tides are low enough to permit of the work being accomplished.

PRINCE GEORGE GUESTS SHOW GREAT FORM IN ORMOND GOLF TOURNAMENT — FINALS BEING PLAYED TODAY.

The Ormond golf tournament now in progress is attracting considerable attention among local followers of the game, presumably, due to the fact that two of the star performers in the tournament are guests of the Prince George hotel here in Daytona.

The tournament, which started on Monday of this week, was interrupted by bad weather on Tuesday and Wednesday and play was resumed again on Thursday. In the first round on Monday M. A. Carroll succeeded in making low score, and is picked by many to win the tournament. His first round was made in 81 and the second in 83. Mr. Carroll took part in the recent golf tournament held at Palm Beach and was defeated by Travis, ex-champion, in the semi-finals.

J. E. Lynch also made exceptionally low scores in both the first and second rounds, and like Mr. Carroll, will compete in the finals today. There is every reason to believe that Messrs. Carroll and Lynch will figure prominently in today's play, and as both men are guests at the Prince George hotel, there are many here who are waiting to see them "bring home the bacon."

J. JONES CARNIVAL HERE WEEK MARCH 1

PUBLISHED STATEMENT THAT SHOWS WOULD BE HERE SATURDAY INCORRECT — TO LOCATE ON CITY ISLAND.

J. W. Moore, advance agent for the Johnny Jones' shows, arrived in the city this morning for the purpose of arranging the preliminary details incident to the carnival company's coming engagement here, announcement of which was made in yesterday's Daily News.

The permission necessary for the use of the city island was obtained from the city authorities and the Daytona Park association, and the Jones aggregation of amusements will come here for a week's stay, beginning on Monday, March 1st. It had been announced that the carnival would be here the latter part of this week and during next week, but this was an error. The shows are to be at Lake-land next week.

It is understood that Mr. Moore made a deal with the Central of Florida Railway company to supply electric current for lights and power for the numerous amusements.

Proper Carving.
In carving, ham and beef should be cut thin; pork, lamb, veal and mutton a little thicker. When carving a leg of mutton, take hold of the bone end with the left hand, then cut thin slices down to the bone and loosen each slice by putting the knife flat on the bared bone and cutting through. The slicing should gradually change direction slightly, so to always cut across the grain.

BOOKLET ON SUMMER HOTEL OWNED BY MRS. M. A. BROWN

Mrs. M. A. Brown, lessee and manager of the Williams hotel, recently left at the Daily News and Gazette-News office an attractive booklet descriptive of Park Hill, the summer hotel owned and conducted by her at Hendersonville, N. C.

The cover of the pamphlet shows a beautiful view of the entrance to the hotel grounds and there are several pages devoted to descriptive matter and excellent illustrations of the grounds and of both the exterior and interior of the building.

A number of the guests now at the Williams will accompany Mrs. Brown to Hendersonville at the close of the season here for a sojourn of several weeks at Park Hill before returning to their northern homes, giving them an opportunity of seeing the mountain-tops of western North Carolina when they are bright with spring flowers and budding verdure.

8 LOTS AUCTIONED AT HIGHLAND PARK

BUNGALOW AND NUMBER OF LOTS WERE SOLD BUT CHILL WIND CUT DOWN THE ATTENDANCE.

The auction sale of lots in Highland Park, C. E. Rowland's new subdivision north of this city, which was held Thursday, resulted in the transfer of eight lots on Pierce avenue, all being single lot sales, and in several cases residences erected upon them in the near future.

The new Pierce-Rowland bungalow in Briglefield Park, to the east of Highland Park, was offered for sale as advertised and was knocked down to David G. Hamilton for the sum of $1,625.00. S. A. Pierce acted as auctioneer.

Due to the attendance being curtailed Thursday by the strong, cold northerly prevailing, it was decided to hold another auction sale of lots next Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

Roosters' Immense Tail Feathers. Undertaking to breed roosters with but one aim in view, that of lengthening the tail feathers, the natives of the island of Shikoku, Japan, have produced, after a hundred years of patient efforts, some marvelous results. It is of record that tail feathers 18 feet in length are to be seen on the island.

Draw Your Own Conclusions. "Why," asked the weary-looking woman, "do you constantly refer to yourself as the goat of this household?" "Because," replied the irritable man, in a loud tone of voice, "a goat is supposed to be able to eat anything and not as if he enjoyed it."—Washington Star.

"Daytona is getting the tourists," is the statement of a prominent railroad man, and indeed, she is. Every train from each direction brings its full quota of Daytona passengers, and the local hotels are at present nearly filled to capacity.

The Roque court, the clock golf courses and the tennis court, of the Despland, vie with one another for popular favor, during the mornings and afternoons. In fact, at some time of the day, the larger percentage of the guests of the Despland, may be found at one of the many spots provided for their outdoor amusement, by the management of the hotel. In the evenings, dancing and cards form agreeable and pleasant ways of passing the leisure time.

Bookings at all of the larger Daytona hotels are unusually large. Assistant Manager Weber, of the Ridgewood, gives out the statement that this hotel has entertained more guests than ever before. A number of former guests of the hotel are expected to arrive during the latter part of this month and during March, which will help swell the house count. Other managers and proprietors report similar conditions existing at the hotels of the city, and all in all the financial success of the season seems assured.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Arnold and family, of Atlanta, who have spent the major portion of a month at the Despland, left for their home, yesterday. The Arnolds are delighted with Daytona, and are planning to spend the entire season at the Despland, next year. Mr. Arnold, who became a national figure as one of the Leo M. Frank counselors, was very reticent on the subject of the Frank case, while here, stating that the present trip was the first vacation he had taken in some time and that he had nothing to say in regard to the Frank matter.

Delicately Put.

Two sisters while visiting in Ireland in Victoria's time got into conversation one day with a tenant of their hostess. One of the girls, who is quite stout, asked the old woman if she would have known them for sisters. "Well," was the answer, "ye look alike, but yer sister's slender, while you, miss—well, you favor the quane."

Make Sunflower Useful.

In some countries, notably in the Russian provinces north of the Caucasus, the sunflower serves other purposes besides ornamenting gardens with its huge golden blossoms. The seeds are used to make oil, which is employed both in the manufacture of soap and in cooking. The stems and leaves are burned and the ashes used to make potash. Last year the sunflower factories of the Caucasus produced 15,000 tons of potash.

"Back" Is the Only Way She Talks. "When yo' has a quail wid yo' wife, do she put and sub or do she talk back, Brudder Ramp?" "She talks back, sah? And sh' not on'y talks back, but she talks fr'atards and sideways and acrost and endways and diagonal and round and round, and den she comes all de way back and repeats herself. ADDITIONAL APPARATUS AS AUTHORIZED BY DAYTONA BEACH COUNCIL WILL SERVE TO STRENGTHEN THE DEPARTMENT.

With additional fire apparatus which the Daytona Beach fire department has been authorized to purchase its realization will serve to encourage those who have been striving to put the boys in fighting trim, should a fire break out, and might ultimately be the means of saving property owners hundreds of dollars.

As one man remarked yesterday, in speaking of the action taken by the Daytona Beach council at a recent meeting, "We have been rather delinquent in the matter of fire protection, and it is time every resident awake to the needs of adequate means with which to check a conflagration if one should start. This plan of closing the barn door after the horse is out has been tried in too many places the size of Daytona Beach. The people do not seem to realize that a fire is liable to occur at any time, and, with a strong wind blowing like last night, would be sure to result most disastrously.

Telephone connections with fire chiefs' residence and water works will save lots of time and trouble. In case of an alarm being given, and if another step is the right direction accomplished by those who have been urging these matters, which should be of vital importance to all thinking citizens.

ENTERTAINED AT CARDS AT DAYTONA BEACH HOME

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. M. Treglow entertained at cards, Wednesday evening, at their home on Halifax avenue, Daytona Beach. Four tables of bridge and three of 500 played, favors going to Mrs. R. E. Olds and Robert Holmes in bridge, Mrs. Smith Young winning the ladies' prize in 500, and Wallace Olds the gentleman's prize. The house was tastefully decorated with roses and spring flowers. Charming refreshments were served at ten. Mrs. Treglow was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. F. P. Land, of Erie, Pa.

To Overrule Timidity.

Don't believe that you are unable to overcome timidity. You think you are not because you have always been able to control conditions and people in a way to humor it. Start the fight now, for you may some day find yourself alone, and without the money to buy yourself an audience for your peculiarities.

Heredity and Color Blindness.

Color blindness is always inherited through the mother, and never through the father. There appears to be no instance in which a color-blind father has transmitted his defect to his children except in connection with a mother who was a transmitter.

FAMOUS LECTURER AT DAYTONA BEACH SUNDAY

Mrs. Mable Quam Stevens, superintendent of Southland seminary, at St. Petersburg is to be the speaker, guest of the Tourist Bible class, Daytona Beach, Sunday next.

She will speak to the class at 10 a. m.; topic, "Overcoming by Undergoing."

In the evening she will deliver her lecture "The Rose of Sharon" in the auditorium of the church.

Mrs. Stevens has a national reputation as one of the most brilliant women on the American platform today. She lectured 48 consecutive days last summer at the Ocean Grove chautauqua.

She will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Holmes while here.

NO BETTER PLACES THAN DAYTONA AND DAYTONA BEACH

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Wiley and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Van Nys, who have spent several winters at Daytona Beach, have just returned from a trip to Tampa and St. Petersburg. After seeing the two interesting cities they are of the opinion that for genuine good living and kind fellowship there are perhaps no better places, and hardly so good, as Daytona and Daytona Beach.

About forty enthusiastic Illinoisans met at the Nautilus Thursday afternoon and made plans to organize a permanent Florida-Illinois association. Next Tuesday, February 23rd, has been set aside as Illinois day at the Nautilus, and it is expected that there will be a large attendance at the outing and acquaintance gathering on that occasion. There will be a picnic lunch, starting at 1:00 o'clock.

ORMOND

ORMOND, Feb. 16.—There was a large attendance at the Union church on Sunday morning, to listen to Dr. Richmond's excellent sermon, as well as the violin solo rendered by Mr. Roentgen of the Ormond hotel orchestra, and the contralto solo given by Mrs. Mills, which was especially beautiful.

Miss Nellie Belle Pinkerton, of Versailles, Ky., arrived in Ormond on Thursday last, and will be the guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. D. Price, at Hammock home, during her stay of several weeks.

The state rally sociable held at the library rooms on Friday evening was very much of a success in every way. Twenty-one states were represented. A chairman had been appointed for each delegation, who had arranged a short program for his or her particular state. Most of these programs were excellent and it would almost seem that special mention should be made of each individual one. Florida and Massachusetts, however, were decided upon as the successful contestants for the prize, and a toss-up awarded it to Florida. Several very amusing as well as original numbers were given. Hans Evernden, Miss M. A. Berry and Mrs. Carswell gave pleasing solos. Light refreshments were served. A small admission fee of ten cents was charged and the affair netted the society something $10.00.

Among those from Ormond attending the Mid-Winter fair at Orlando last week were Mrs. Geo. H. Sage, Miss Margaret and Henry and Mr. Bassett, Mr. and Mrs. Philloman Robbins, Miss Dorothy Robbins, Jack Robbins and Miss Ellen Pomeroy.

Dr. Nelson W. Francis, of Jacksonville, was in town last week on a visit to his mother and sister.

The monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of Ormond was held with Mrs. Hartwell Green and Mrs. Hinkley on New Britain avenue on Thursday afternoon, the president, Mrs. John M. Richmond, in the chair.

Mrs. Thomas McCoy and daughter, Gertrude, of Milford, Mich., were guests of Mrs. Hartwell Green and Mrs. Hinkley on Friday. Mrs. McCoy and her daughter have been spending some time in Orlando and are now at Daytona Beach for a few days before returning north.

The meeting was largely attended and will be long remembered because of the generous gift of $277.00 made by one of the Ormond members of long standing, to the woman's board of foreign missions for the Abbie B. Childs school located at Dlong-loh, China.

The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Evernden, after which Mrs. David W. Lewis gave an interesting talk on "The Awakening of China," followed by Miss Margaret Howe, who gave an account of her meeting with Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Smith, the well known missionaries, on board the steamship enroute to Honolulu. Miss Howe also talked entertainingly with regard to the Chinese aristocrats in Honolulu, their mode of living and dressing as well as their high standing in that city. Refreshments of coffee and cake were then served, and the society adjourned to meet on invitation of Mrs. Will-

Ham Shafer at her home on Lincoln street in March.

The Skalp whist given last Tuesday night, was in charge of Messrs. Carleton and Wardwell at the library rooms. The gentlemen turned over to the society $12.00.

PORT ORANGE.

PORT ORANGE, Feb. 16.—Millard Pattillo, from Atlanta, formerly connected with the Pattillo Co., is visiting old friends who are glad to greet him. Millard always was popular.

Mrs. Solana, from San Mateo, has been in town for a few days. Mr. Solana opened a market here some weeks ago.

Mrs. O. M. Johnson, who had been staying with Mrs. Lizzie Johnson for awhile, has returned to her residence in Allandale.

Dr. Chas. Pattillo and wife, of Atlanta, who had been visiting the Pattillos and looking up old friends and enjoying the climate, returned on Tuesday.

J. M. Pool has been having walks laid around his residence and making other improvements that add to the appearance and convenience of his home.

The work done on Ridgewood avenue and the dryer weather has greatly improved that thoroughfare.

The Briggs place has been very much improved by grading the lawn to correspond with the retaining wall, and with the walk in front, and the new iron fence freshly painted, makes a very neat appearance.

The concrete filling between the sidewalk and the platform recently put in by the F. E. C. railway adds to the convenience and appearance of the station.

A number of the patrons of the school gathered Friday night to listen to spelling and other exercises of an informal character by the pupils, directed by the able principal, Mrs. George Mollie Adams.

G. Coate and wife, of Middletown, Ohio, who had been enjoying the scenery of the Halifax from the old Meeker house for some weeks, bade a reluctant adieu on Monday and left for home.

G. Filby, who had been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Baily, started for his home in West Milton, Ohio, on Monday, leaving Mrs. Filby to return later.

O. L. Ambler, a planter, and a friend of W. C. Ernhart, has returned to his home in Greenville, S. C.

The donation by C. C. Price of 40 volumes of histories of different countries of the world is greatly appreciated by the Port Orange Library and Literar yassociation, and makes a notable addition to the library.

W. J. Shears returned to his Ohio home some days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Emrick left on Monday for their home in Clayton, Ohio. Mr. Emrick is president and manager, and with W. J. Shears and S. S. Falknor comprise the Dayton & Troy Automobile Co., with stores in Dayton, Troy and Piqua.

The Good Times club met at Mrs. Plumbs this afternoon, and, as usual, demonstrated that the club is really named.

The Willing Workers have planned to hold their next meeting at Vass hall on Monday, February 22, at 2:30 p. m. Should the weather be cold, other arrangements will be made.

The Willing Workers and Pastime clubs are planning to join in serving a supper in Vass hall next Thursday night, commencing at 5:30; the proceeds to apply on the purchase of a sewing machine for the use of the Willing Worker's society. Any surplus will go to aid the Children's Home society of Florida.

Mr. Young will have his house on the river front ready for plastering as soon as he gets the chimeys, on which the workmen are now engaged, built. This gives promise of being an attractive house when finished and has a nice view of the river.

He climbed on the rear platform of an early morning street car and announced to the crowd:
"Gimme room, gents, I've got the foot-and-mouth disease."
The crowd gave him room and began to size him up.
"Surest thing you know," he went on, as he rolled a cigarette. "Corns and the toothache."
"Parest!" yelled the conductor, and the crowd resumed its smoking.

"MUTT AND JEFF" AT THE NEW DAYTONA THEATER
"The real hit of the show world," is a very broad assertion. If it were made by Gus Hill, the sole owner and manager of "Mutt & Jeff" it would undoubtedly be set down as due to an exaggerated egotism; but, coming from the critic of one of the most important and largest circulated newspapers in the eastern country, it must necessarily have weight with the theater-going public. The expression is an honest criticism that has been used by the critics of at least ten thousand daily and Sunday newspapers.

"Mutt & Jeff in Mexico" is the title of the new offering which Gus Hill has prepared at the cost of a small fortune for new scenery, costumes, story, music and everything that goes to make one of the most elaborate comedy productions the stage has ever held. It all comes to the New Daytona theater, Saturday night, February 20th.

Fond Recollections.

"Speaking of old times," said a member of the (recreation) club, "I can remember when a water would say 'Thank you for food for a 25-cent tip.' That's nothing," replied his companion. "I can remember when I would look at the list of dishes on a menu to see what I wanted instead of looking at it at the price to see what I could afford."

To Prevent China Chipping.

A good way to prevent fine china and cut glass from chipping while being washed is to put an old Turkish towel in the bottom of the dishpan.

The Right Occupation.

When men are greatly occupied their amusements grow out of their work, as the caterer gets out of the fruitful flower—Bacon.

the doctor wonderingly answered my summons.

"Which patient is it?" he asked Von Leiderfrost.

Leaving the parents in the hall, we entered the ward. In the first bed lay a handsome brown-eyed boy. The card above his head said twenty years old. His lips were parched, his cheeks tendered. A heavy iron ball hung to his foot, outside the bed.

"He has a shattered hip," explained the doctor, his finger on the boy's pulse. "He cannot last another day."

Oh, then let his parents in at once," I cried in pain, "and don't tell them. Let them hope."

Von Leiderfrost opened the door. Very primly and sedately the dazed couple stepped in. Their hungry eyes flashed to every bed, coming last to the one nearest. There lay their only son, aged twenty!

The mother saw him first. With a low sound of agonized tenderness she fell to her knees, pressing her mother-tender lips to his parched ones.

Her poor little bundle fell unheeded and rolled under the bed. The father set the food upon the floor and covered his eyes with his hardened, toll-worn hands. The mother murmured tenderly as if comforting an only babe. The two bright brown eyes feasted lovingly upon her face, but the parched lips could utter no sound.

Every patient was crying. Bearded men, smooth-faced boys, all were crying. The Vienna professor in the third bed, whose pallid face was whiter than his pillow, closed his eyes, but the tears rushed over his bloodless cheeks.

All Overcome.

I sank on a bench crying also. Von Leiderfrost with his face screwed up like a grief-stricken baby, sobbed noisily as he dashed out of the door.

Dr. MacDonald turned his back to me.

"Doctor, please don't send them away," I pleaded. "Let them stay until the end."

The doctor spoke in a low voice to the nurse. She nodded her head and wiped her eyes. She motioned to the watchful attendants. They brought sheets and began to stretch them as a shield around the bed. This is always done at the approach of death.

The father had sunk on his knees. The mother still cooed plaintively to her beautiful boy.

We tiptoed out and closed the door noiselessly.

"They may stay until the end," said the doctor, drawing a long breath.

The military inspectors had just left when a new lot of patients arrived. One gaunt, suffering mortal lay upon the operating table, his wounds being dressed. A great gasp in his abdomen is less horrible to me than the frightful torn flesh of his leg.

He is quite conscious, despite his sufferings. He lay all night where he fell, fighting off the wolves; only by the tearing off the flesh of his leg with their sharp, hot teeth, did he return to consciousness after his injury.

All night long he fought for his life against the savage, hungry beasts.

And the cries of the dying, unable to move a hand to beat off the devouring wolves still echoed in his ears. He begged to be made senseless. Not to ease his pain, but to shut out those maddening cries.

A Real Horror.

But humanity endures pains and horrors and continues with childish frailties.

I feel I could never smile again and that my heart must always be noticeable like a heavy weight upon my breast. Then I enter a ward where some forty men with horrible wounds hover between life and death.

In the end beds are two gipsies. There is only one face between them. Each has half a face blown off by shrapnel. They cannot speak. They can only grunt and make signs. Out of the bandages peep their black, bulging eyes, half of a disfigured nose and an upper distorted lip. By signs each conveys the information to the nurses that the looks of the other disgusts him. When they grunt too energetically great chunks of blood gush from their mouths.

And yet when some one brought a fiddle into the ward the one grabbed it as if it were heaven. He played wild, sweet refrains until the one beside him snatched it away to play a wilder, sweeter one. And all faces not hidden by bandages beamed and glowed. For the moment the voice of the violin had stolen their pain away.

A thousand-acre grove of orange and grapefruit trees is a wonderful thing. Such a grove has been made but once in the history of Florida. It is located at Lucerne Park, in Polk County, and is recognized as the finest accomplishment in the citrus development of the state. The men who built this grove are now engaged in making an even finer one, twice as large, at Mountain Lake, some ten miles away.

The tract is located in the heart of the famous citrus belt of the lake region of Florida, comprises over 2,500 acres. It is uniformly fertile, beautifully rolling and splendidly located as regards transportation. The grove making will be along the most efficient lines, and the property will be laid out by a landscape architect of international reputation. Lovely winter homesites will fringe the lake shores, dot the sides of Iron Mountain and crown the adjacent elevations.

The groves will be planted and sold in ten-acre units. The land will be cleared and planted, the trees cared for and cultivated and all necessary attention given the groves for five years. This part of the development will be under the direction of M. E. Gillett & Son, the world's foremost citrus experts, who have made many of Florida's greatest groves, including those at Lucerne Park. They have also assumed the selling agency for the properties.

The landscape work will be done by Frederick Law Olmsted, of Brookline, Mass. Mr. Olmsted was associated with his father, the leading landscape architect of his day, in planning Biltmore Estate. He has to his own credit much notable landscaping, including Roland Park in Baltimore and Forest Hills Gardens, Long Island. At Mountain Lake he will conserve the natural beauties without interference with the economic features.

The Mountain Lake Corporation commands respect because of the standing of the gentlemen who compose it. Among the leading stockholders are the following:

FRANK S. WASHINGTON, president American Cyanamid Company, Niagara Falls, Ont., president Alabama Power Company, Birmingham, Ala.
JAMES MITCHELL, president Alabama Traction, Light & Power Company, Ltd., New York and London.
HERBERT E. GOODMAN, vice-president and general manager Goodnow Manufacturing Company, electrical mining machinery, Chicago, Ill.

ELMER A. SPERRY, president Sperry Gyroscope Company, New York.
M. E. GILLETT AND D. C. GILLETT, proprietors of Buckeye Nurseries and Gillett Lumber & Transportation Company, Tampa, Florida.
E. C. STUART, vice-president State Bank of Bartow, Bartow, Fla., director Coronet Phosphate Company, Lakeland, Fla.
FREDERICK S. ROTH, president Mountain Lake Corporation, Lake Wales, Fla.

A preliminary booklet, now ready for distribution, gives the plans much more in detail. Copy will be mailed on application and further particulars supplied upon request.

BASKET BALL GAME
AT ARCADE TONIGHTD. H. S. TO PLAY EMPIRE STATE TEAM THIS EVENING AND STET-SON UNIVERSITY TEAM AT DE-LAND TOMORROW NIGHT.

An exciting basket ball battle will be staged at the Arcade this evening between the five of Daytona high school and the New York state team. The record of the high school boys is well known to local fans and they are very popular here, while the Empire State team is said to be made up of good material, and is expected to give the local champions a run for their money.

Hawn, who regularly plays the right forward position for the high school team, will probably be unable to play this evening, owing to sickness, and Raymond Green will likely take his place. The D. H. S. team looks to be the stronger of the two, but the New York bunch have the reputation of being a hard team to beat, so the battle should prove to be an interesting one.

Tomorrow evening the D. H. S. team will play that of Stetson university, at Cumming's gymnasium, DeLand. They have already twice defeated the Stetson academy, but this will be their first experience with the Stetson "varsity" five, this year.

ONE-THIRD OF A MILLION

In the East Coast State Bank, Daytona Beach

On Monday, February 15, 1915, I deposited $100.00 to the credit of the treasurers of the Chamber of Commerce of the Peninsula, and of the Palmetto Club of Daytona, to be expended in any manner these two bodies may see fit to help beautify the three cities, subject to the following

Conditions

There shall be used in new buildings, repairs to buildings, or retaining walls, within the city limits of Seabreeze, Daytona Beach and Daytona, one-third of a million cement blocks. They may be 8x8x16 in. or 8x8x20 in. or 8x8x24 in.

These sizes will allow any standard machine now in use by the different contractors to be used.

As the combined capacity of the five block-yards easily exceed by a third the number mentioned (one-third of a million), it is up to all to encourage this class of building. The time limit is exactly one year from this date.

BOARD OF TRADE BOOSTED
BY BIG BOSTON NEWSPAPER

While the saying about a prophet being not without honor except in his own country is not applicable with especial force (and perhaps not at all) to the Daytona board of trade, yet more than one local citizen, when he reads the following from the Boston Evening Transcript, will think about the astute old phrase-maker's keen perceptive power:

"Florida is fast filling with guests, and Daytona has more than her share for this time of year. This is probably due, to a large extent, to the improved condition of the transportation facilities within the past year. Daytona and its board of trade have long been active in trying to better conditions along this line, feeling that not enough attention was being paid to Daytona in the way of through service and Pullman accommodations. The service this year makes the city more easily reached from the north and east."

The foregoing appeared in the Boston paper last Saturday.

Sounds more like Russian than like a description of a completely furnished nine-room cottage, which I am offering to sell at a most reasonable price.

The house is well built, has built-in sideboard, window seats, high wainscoted living and dining room, enclosed china closets, bath and three bedrooms on main floor, three unfinished bedrooms up stairs, servants' quarters with private bath down stairs; there is a furnace in the basement, gas range, water heater, electric lights.

The lot faces Ridgewood avenue, is 55x400, has many grapefruit, orange and tangerine trees, as well as a rose garden. There is a garage. A home which will appeal to refined people, who have a desire for something better than the usual run of houses offered for sale.

ATTRIBUTES SUCCESS TO

ADVERTISING IN DAILY NEWS

The lucky purchase sale which started at the Quality Shop yesterday morning and is to continue for nine days, was besieged with shoppers from early morning until nearly midnight, and the bevy of extra clerks hired especially for the big sale were scarcely able to handle the business. Goods, as advertised in the Daily News, are going like hot cakes, and the proprietor of the Quality Shop attributes his unprecedented boom in business to advertising in the columns of a paper that is read by nearly everybody. Sale will continue for eight days more and new bargains are being offered as daily shipments of the lucky purchase arrive.

Billiard Tables Rest on Rock.

Billiard tables, supported on solid rock are among the novel features of a 36-room concrete residence located on one of the islands of the San Juan archipelago in Puget sound. Each table rests on a massive concrete base which extends through an opening in the floor and has its footing on bedrock, and is therefore as solid and as free from vibration as if it were a part of the island itself.—Popular Mechanics.

Household Hint From Father.

(You could write your husband a letter, it was that dusty.) "Says my father, peering over his specs (eye glasses) at his industrious, hard-playing daughter, 'I say, suppose I stop hammering on the 'Mother-in-Law' Rag' for a while, and practice on the dust-rag an hour or two. I think mother would be pleased.'"

Africa's Potential Wealth.

For its future industrial development Africa is remarkably rich. Already coal deposits to the value of more than three hundred million dollars have been discovered along the Cape to Cairo route, while more than five thousand waterfalls offer wonderful possibilities for the establishment of waterpower centers.

Had Discovered That.

"How's the baby?" asked the neighbor of the new father. "Fine," said the proud parent. "Don't you find that a baby brightens up a household wonderfully?" pursued the friend. "Yes," said the parent, with a sigh, "we have the gas going most of the night now."—New York Globe.
